RE: FIREMEN'S APPAREL

By THE SPECTATOR

If the mental muscles are to be safeguarded from desuetude, there must always be an alertness to see to it that they are well supplied with intellectual oils, of which there is none better, as a rule, than those which can be had by plumbing the deep wells of cause and effect. And from this point on the class can proceed to its own conclusion as to why Bala-Cynwyd has a most direful time of it trying to collect one hundred dollars for its Fourth of July celebrations, even finding it imperative to call a town meeting in the dilemma which besets it, whilst the substantial committee declares, in plaintive terms, that it is very much on the "anxious seat."

Some aid to the answer might be extracted from what happened at the Narberth Theatre on Thursday night of last week, when the long-laden clouds cracked down in fiercest fury and in less than an hour the knee-deep water in our streets produced a flood condition which seemed almost insuperable. There is no recollection of anything quite like it having occurred hereabouts before and the problem of getting several score of persons to their homes was one of more than simple dimensions. Very quickly, however, our Narberth men and boys were on the job, taking all and sundry to their marooned cars, and shortly after midnight everybody was safely at destination, except one lady who was still among the missing when 2 A. M. had come.

Conspicuous in the rescue parties was Dr. Joe Snyder, the fine borough-bred boy who has now come into such excellent professional estate, and who minded not at all his handsome habiliments as he plunged to and fro in the turbulent rains to be of splendid service. Dan McGarry also rendered yeoman help in his blunderbus and young Dick Cabrey made a dozen trips to various parts of the town in his stalwart simulation of St. Christopher. There were many others and it all meant a very great deal to one who pays close attention to the things which make people think and act differently in different circumstances and environments, and that is possibly why we were impressed so strangely with the fact that in not one instance did we observe any Merion resident offering a ride to the storm-bound, despite the very considerable manner in which they were befriended in the first place.

The procedure was to take a man to the place where his car was parked, after which he drove to the theatre to get the rest of his party and to give a lift to others who had no cars. Invariably, the Narberthites went away with a crowded car, splashing through the maelstrom with high humor, but the lonely folks to the east of us were content to take merely their own personal baggage and to slip off into the raging night without any reference to those they left behind, seeming to indicate that there can be conditions which will indeed alter the general assumption that one touch of nature must irresistibly make the whole world kin.

At any rate, let it all imply what you will, but don't overlook that the primary purpose of the narrative is to stress the fact that when you quickly send a dollar or two to the Fireworks Fund you are, among other things, registering satisfaction with your choice of abode and you give evidence that you prefer life to be expressed in normal, natural factors, not being so blasé or bored as to think that some fun on the Fourth of July is altogether for those of lesser ilk.

Lower Merion Hires 12 New Instructors

Resignations of Five Accepted by Board at Special Meeting

17 CONTRACTS AWARDED

Twelve new teachers were appointed for the coming year by the Lower Merion School Board at a special meeting held in the Administration Building, Ardmore, on Monday night, at which meeting several contracts were awarded.

According to S. E. Downs, superintendent of schools, the twelve will fill positions left vacant by five teachers who are planning to be married this summer and also vacancies already existing.

Teachers whose resignations have been accepted are:

Miss Arbelia Karns, Penn Wynne School; Miss Mary Pfaltzgraff, Ashland School; Miss Mary T. Wise, Bala School; Miss Jean J. Steinbach, Wynnewood School, and Miss Ruth M. Freeman, Merion Square School.

New teachers are:

Catherine Betchel, a graduate of Millersville Normal School and holder of a master's degree from the University of Pennsylvania. She has had four years' experience.

Emily V. Boyd, a graduate of Purdue University with a master's degree from Columbia. She has had five years' experience.

Medla Croyle, a graduate of Indiana Normal School with a B. S. from the University of Pittsburgh and three years' experience.

Elsie V. Hardman, a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, with five years' experience.

Mary Hoopes, a year at Earlham College and a B. S. from West Chester State Teachers' College.

Margaret Jarrett, a graduate from Philadelphia Normal School with a master's degree from the University of Pennsylvania and four years' experience.

Julia Landis, Ardmore, a graduate of West Chester State Teachers' College.

Harriet Marsh, Narberth, a graduate this month from Beaver College.

Catherine Miller, a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania.

Margaret P. Smith, Ardmore, a B. S. from West Chester State Teachers' College with three years' experience.

Margaret Steele, A. B. from Wilson College and A. M. from the University of Pennsylvania.

Janet White, a graduate from Ithaca School with a B. S. from West Chester State Teachers' College.

Chief among the contracts awarded was that for the purchase of two Mack school busses at $8880 apiece.

Plans for settlement of the purchase of the Barker property, adjoining the Junior High School grounds, are being drawn up by the Bryn Mawr Trust Company, Superintendent Downs reported.

Sixteen other contracts for supplies and repairs were awarded by the board.

Receives Scout Medal

Frank H. Seely, Jr., Ardmore, formerly of Bala-Cynwyd, has been awarded the Silver Beaver Medal for his service to Boy Scouts during the last 15 years.

Dedication of Cannon Date Still Indefinite

Legion to Have Harold D.
Speakman Portrait
Painted

RECESS TO SEPTEMBER

The date of the installation and dedication of Narberth's cannon is still indefinite. A. Perry Redifer, Jr., chairman of the Memorial Committee, reported at the June meeting of Harold D. Speakman Post, American Legion, Narberth, that blue prints for the memorial grouping at the community playground will be ready soon when bids for the work can be taken and financing means considered.

A painting of Harold D. Speakman, for whom the post is named, will be made by William Tefft Schwarz, Merion artist. A committee of Arthur L. Cooke, Frank Challenger and Charles J. Clarke was appointed by Harvey J. Cook, post commander, to arrange for the work.

Commander Cook named as a nominating committee for the coming year's election A. Perry Redifer, chairman; Walter P. Miesen, Gordon Wunder, Edward Ensinger, Robert C. Collins and Vincent Cunningham.

Challenger, who is deputy district commander, and Commander Cook were chosen delegate and alternate delegate to the American Legion State convention at Johnstown, August 20, 21 and 22.

The post will not meet again until September.

Green Speaks at Ardmore as Pumpers Are Housed

W. Russell Green, of Narberth, Montgomery County solicitor, made the principal address at the housing of the Merion Fire Company of Ardmore's two pumpers last Saturday. He was introduced by Julius Zieget, president of the Lower Merion Commissioners, who, with fire company president William E. Kamerde, welcomed the visiting firemen.

The ceremonies followed a parade of seven bands and 45 fire companies including the Union Fire Association of Bala-Cynwyd and the Narberth contingent.

Curbing Work Ordered

Frank Gioni, Frank Coradetti and Frank Gibney this week were making repairs to borough curbs and sidewalks ordered by borough council, in cases where residents, after receiving notices, had not complied with them. Property owners will be assessed the cost of the work plus a 15 per cent penalty.

John C. Nash Improved

John C. Nash, who has been confined to his home on Wynnedale avenue, Narberth, for some time by a heart ailment, is reported improved.

Frank A. Schrepfer Home From U. S. Naval Hospital

Frank A. Schrepfer returned Monday to his home at 315 Grayling avenue, Narberth, following several months' treatment and rest for a heart ailment at the U. S. Naval Hospital in Philadelphia.

Mr. Schrepfer plans a vacation before returning to his duties as commander of the Military Order of the Purple Heart and as professor of landscape architecture at the University of Pennsylvania.

On returning home his first act was to send congratulations to Brigadier General Daggart, 99, oldest living army officer, who resides in West Roxbury, Mass., and was twice wounded in the Civil War.

Former Residents Star in Wheaton Academy Activities

Distinguished among this season's graduates at Wheaton Academy, Wheaton, Illinois, was John Stam, son of Peter Stam, Jr., formerly of 111 Rockland avenue, Narberth, and now executive director of the Conservatory of Music at Wheaton College.

John was the only member of the academy graduating class to be elected to both the National Scholastic Honor Society and to the Athletic Honor Society.

He attended the Narberth Public School and spent his freshman and sophomore years at Lower Merion High School, after which the family moved to Wheaton. During his two years at Wheaton he has been active in literary and musical work as well as in athletics. He was president of the Kreitonian Literary Society, business manager of the academy glee club, was a member of the debate team, took the tennis championship, and also made the basketball and baseball teams.

He follows his brother Peter who last year was president of the rival Epinoian Literary Society and was also elected to the National Scholastic Honor Society. Peter has completed his freshman year at Wheaton College and is traveling to the Pacific Coast this summer with the Ambassadors Gospel Team.

Girls Democratic Hostesses

Among the 177 "Quaker Maid" girls acting as guides and hostesses at the Democratic Convention this week are Lisette McCusker, Merion, and Kittie Minnick, Bala-Cynwyd, at the Hotel Lorraine; Peggy McDevitt, Wynnewood, at the Hotel Majestic; Jennie Patricia Connelly, Merion, Hotel Warwick; Mary Boyer and Mary Lee Brown, both of Merion, 13th and Chestnut streets; and Marjorie Durkin, Merion, at 15th and Walnut streets.

Voters' League Has Booth

On Tuesday the Montgomery County League of Women Voters was in charge of the National League booth in the Bellevue-Stratford, Philadelphia, in connection with Democratic Convention Week. Among those at the booth were Mrs. W. M. Gehmann, Jr., Bala-Cynwyd, president of the county league; Mrs. J. Alden Tift, Merion branch president; Mrs. Benjamin Wells and Mrs. L. Donaldson, both of Merion.

Hostess to Group

Members of the Dramatic Group of the Past Presidents' Club of the Montgomery County Federation of Women's Clubs were guests of Mrs. C. Arley Farmer, of Narberth, at her cottage in Ocean City on Wednesday.

Rotarians at Convention

No meeting of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club was held this week as many of its members were attending the Rotary International Convention at Atlantic City.

Bishop of Lucknow at Cynwyd Church

Indian Missionary Will Address
Methodists at Sunday
Morning Service

IN ASIA SINCE 1910

Bishop J. Waskom Pickett, episcopal head of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Lucknow, India, will be the guest speaker at the Bala-Cynwyd Methodist Church, Levering Mill road and Bala avenue, this Sunday at the 11 o'clock service. He was the first American missionary to be elected a bishop by his American and Indian friends in India.

Bishop Pickett recently completed a study of the "mass movement" toward Christianity among the low-caste and outcaste peoples of India, and this study has greatly affected the whole missionary outlook and approach to Indian Hinduism.

He has been a missionary in India since 1910. He has been pastor in Lucknow and in Arrah; superintendent of the Arrah District; secretary of the Board of Temperance in India; agent of the Methodist Publishing House in Lucknow; and editor of the "Indian Witness." He is a member of the Board of Governors of Lucknow Christian College.

Colleges and High Schools Add to Presbyterian Choir

In the morning service on Sunday the adult choir of the Narberth Presbyterian Church will sing "Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee" a choral from the cantata, "Sleepers Awake," by Bach.

During the evening service the High School choir will sing "Rejoice Ye Pure in Heart," by Charles J. May.

The adult choir has grown considerably under the direction of James R. Weeks, a student at the Westminster Choir School of Princeton. In addition to the training received during choir rehearsals, the members are given individual instructions each week. Several recent graduates have been promoted from the High School Choir to the older group. Several men who are home from college on vacation will be with the group until fall.

Cubs Plan Marble Tourney

Members of the Narberth, Penn Wynne and Ardmore cub packs will hold a kite flying and marble tournament tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon at the Wynnewood Road School grounds.

Narberth boys participating in the marble contest include Ralph Hoyle, Arthur Smith, Dick Whiting, Henry Frye, Jr., Warren Aldred and Bill Kairer. Henry A. Frye, Narberth cubmaster, will be a judge.

New Rabies Case Reported

Another rabies case was reported on the Main Line, the first in nearly a month, when a positive report was received from the Bureau of Animal Husbandry in Harrisburg Wednesday. The dog belonged to W. R. Fox, Winding way and Meeting House lane, Merion.

On Hostess Committee

Mrs. C. Carroll Baxter, Bala-Cynwyd, and Mrs. George K. Watson, Merion, served as members of the hostess committee this week at the Democratic Convention.

Independents to Play Borough This Week

Davismen Crush Malvern, 16-2,
But Lose to Gladwyne

FIFTH PLACE IN LEAGUE

Because it has an open date in the Main Line League schedule, Narberth baseball club will play two independent games over the week-end. Gene Davis' tossers will clash with Towanda A. A. here tomorrow and on Sunday will meet Pitman (N. J.) on the same field.

Baseball in Narberth has painted a new picture this year—a great contrast to that common with the game in the town. The Davismen can't win consistently and thus we find them resting uncomfortably in fifth place, with an average of six victories and five defeats for .545. Not much from a Narberth team. Last year the boys went out and sewed up the first half, and what they did to Brookline in the series is history.

What to Do

First the critics claimed it was lack of pitching that held back the home-sters, but it also can be traced to the lack of hitting from veteran performers. Some strengthening must be done if the club has any hopes of being in the annual series.

Narberth managed to win one of its two games played last week-end. The Davismen looked impressive against Malvern, whom they shellacked by a 16-2 count, but remember Malvern is in sixth position in the standings. On Sunday the boroughites tangled with Gladwyne again and suffered their second defeat at the hands of George Nellings' youngsters. The score of this one, a well-played affair, was 4-2.

Two home runs put the skids under Narberth Sunday. In the first inning Major Hayden arrived at first when his grounder went through Mickey Gavin at short. Shortly after Joey Burns blasted a homer to right center. In the fourth Gleason poked a single and Pastore hit one to almost the same spot as did Burns. He circled the bases and the damage was done. Narberth scored two runs in the third, greatly aided by a wild throw to second by Burns.

It was a tough game for Tommy Byrne to lose. The importation from Phoenixville hurled well, striking out seven and not allowing a walk. Gladwyne tagged him for eight hits, but except for Burns' and Pastore's wall-ops he kept the invaders in check. On the other hand, Narberth could collect only four hits off the slants of Ted Westervelt, who fanned three as he went the route.

It was the old story—Narberth's failure to hit—the thing that makes the boys just members of another ball club.

Herrmann Stars

Al Herrmann, burly blond, had Malvern completely at his mercy on Saturday. Allowing seven scattered hits and fanning nine, he crashed out five hits himself to help boost the Narberth total to 21. At that it was a good game until the sixth inning, when the Davis crew got to Bill Noblitt and scored three runs. Dyson went to his rescue, but it was a futile move, for Narberth scored four, three and four more in the remaining innings, turning it into a farce.

Harry Fox and Jack Eachus contributed home runs in the massacre. Eachus also had two singles and Fox one. Johnny Brennan and Herrman collected two-baggers.

Wynnewood Notes

Mrs. Harrison Hoblitzelle, of "Inwood," entertained at a luncheon last Thursday.

Miss Sonia Ricci, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Ricci, of Love's lane, will leave Friday for Robin Hood Camp, near Chambersburg, where she will spend the summer.

Mrs. Paul A. Bishop, who has been spending several days in Washington, D. C., returned to her home on Penn road Tuesday.

Miss Barbara King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. King, of Sussex road, has returned from Newton, Mass., where she attended the wedding of Miss Marjorie Stone and Mr. Norman Dow. She was accompanied by Miss Katherine Whalen, of Newton and Greenfield, who will be her guest for some time.

Miss King will give a dinner at the Penn Athletic Club on Saturday evening in honor of Miss Whalen.

Landon and Knox

In a convention predominantly under the influence of the younger men of the party, Republicans at Cleveland have nominated a ticket and promulgated a platform that meets with an enthusiastic reception from the rank and file of the party in the country. A reorganized and rejuvenated party confidently looks forward to victory in November.

This distinctively was a people's convention. No Gargantuan Penrose, nor sinuous Murray Crane, nor blustery Jim Watson, nor smooth, sleek Reed Smoot "bossed" this gathering, yet it was the most completely "bossed" convention in the history of the party, and the name of the "Boss" was Public Opinion.

From the start to finish the will of the people—the rank and file of the party—made itself felt, imperiously, unescapably. Invisible, but as palpable as a lightning flash and a crash of thunder it dominated the scene. It was public opinion—real democracy asserting itself after a long, drugged sleep, that ruled the conference rooms, the caucuses of State delegations and the convention floor itself. And much more than that. By telegraph wire and radio, sparkling in from every corner of the nation, it commanded that thus and so be done. It is accurate enough to say that it was a delegates' convention, free from the dictatorship of bosses or leaders.

And from it evolved the ticket—Landon and Knox—and the sturdy platform, which have raised from the doldrums of despair to the heights of optimism the hearts and minds of some fifteen to twenty million voters of the Grand Old Party, who look with confidence to the Isles of November.

Scoutmaster Resigns
From Merion Troop

Mr. J. Alden Tift, Scoutmaster of the Liberty Troop of Merion for the last six years, has resigned from that position. He was succeeded by Mr. Russell Belfield of Merion. Mr. E. N. Strang, assistant scoutmaster of the troop, has also resigned, and was succeeded by Mr. William Ferguson and Mr. Samuel Blakeman.

At the Scout meeting last week, at which there were present fifty scouts of the Merion troop and the Sea Scout troop, the two were presented with mementoes in appreciation of their leadership.

The Merion troop will continue a summer camping program, and will start its regular winter activities the first Monday in October. Any boy twelve years old living in Merion, who wishes to join the Liberty Troop should telephone Mr. Russell Belfield at his home, 331 Cherry Bend, Merion, Pa., Merion 3340.

Starring in "Under Two Flags" at the Narberth

The West Window
By William Edwards Cameron

Unsung Benefactor

The science of surgery owes no small part of its success to a man almost unknown by the laity. He and his accomplishments are hidden in the nebulous eras of history. He was Dr. Crawford W. Long, remembered and revered by the medical men; and by the great army which relieves human distress by its ministrations in the operating room.

Dr. Long was the world's first surgeon to use sulphuric ether as an anesthetic. Before his discovery, operations were performed with nothing at all to relieve the fearful pain of them—which only the self-control of the most courageous stoic could endure. Down to the time of the Mexican War, badly wounded soldiers were given a leaden musket-ball on which to bite during the process of amputation—that, and nothing else for an anesthetic.

This devoted professional was a born student. He was in the habit of following a red thread through any fabric of knowledge until he found its very beginning. He worked from effect straight back to cause. Never was his mind at rest. To him, every mystery had its root in some commonplace fundamental—the twos which make fours. He entered college at the early age of fourteen. At twenty-four, he graduated from the medical department of the University of Pennsylvania. Then he spent eighteen months in New York, where he made for himself a distinguished name in surgery.

Then he went back to his native Georgia and took up practice in the remote settlement of Jefferson, Jackson County, a mere wide place in a road, as the saying goes. His practice was in the rural districts, entirely, and that being the only mode of travel, his visits to his patients were made on horseback—with his saddle-bags filled with the simple medicines used in those days. He read as he rode, in no haste, over the trails which led "back yan," from a volume of Dickens, or of Shakespeare, on which immortals he became an authority.

It happened that during the late thirties the exhilarating effect of laughing-gas was a subject of extended discussion generally—and particularly in such places as crossroads stores. Dr. Long used to spend some of his spare time in the rear room of a tiny drug store in Jefferson, meeting there, on nights, some of the young men of the neighborhood. Some of them suggested that Dr. Long have a laughing-gas party in his room. There was, however, no laughing-gas available; so the doctor told them that he had a "medicine" much better, and that he had tried it on himself.

At the party the crowd became Rapturous, tragic and unforgettable for its sweep and power, Ouida's "Under Two Flags" brings together four of the screen's most glamorous stars in a flaming story of men's heroism and women's devotion. The four shown are Ronald Colman, Claudette Colbert, Rosalind Russell and Victor McLaglen. The picture is at the Narberth Theatre this week-end.

highly hilarious—and there was much knocking about, with numerous falls and consequent bruises; which Dr. Long observed were received with no indication of pain. That was his red thread—and he determined to conduct a daring experiment. He had a patient named James Venable, who was suffering with a cystic tumor on his neck—a growth called, commonly, a wen. Venable agreed to its removal while he was under the influence of ether. The operation was a complete success, the patient declaring that he felt not the slightest twinge.

By September, 1845, Dr. Long had performed eight operations using the new anesthetic. In 1849 he wrote a paper describing them, which appeared in the Southern Medical and Surgical Journal. The writing was challenged immediately by Dr. W. T. G. Morton, of Boston, who claimed priority as a user of the pungent chemical some two years before the appearance of the treatise. That was true—but being a careful man, Long had waited until he was sure of what he was about before announcing his results. He was no seeker after glory; and being a modest man, he was not minded to much ado over his discovery—at least, not by himself.

But in that remote little hamlet of Jefferson there was proof of what he had done; and there were Venable, the druggist, and six other beneficiaries of Long's triumph. His partisans carried the controversy to the halls of Congress—and after an investigation by that august body, the anadem of reward was given to the Georgia surgeon. The honors are his, for all time. The medical fraternity knows that.

Dr. Long removed to Athens, Georgia, in 1850, where he built up a lucrative practice, serving with great zeal both rich and poor—and whether the lowly could pay or not was all one to him. There was a movement at one time to erect a fine monument to him; but it was not brought to a conclusion. In 1910, Dr. L. G. Hardman presented to Athens an obelisk in Dr. Long's memory. He was born in 1815 and died in 1878.

Virginia Chewning Bride
of S. Harman Brown;
Father Son's Best Man

The marriage of Miss Virginia Chewning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Chewning, of Pembroke road, Cynwyd, and Mr. S. Harman Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Shellman Brown, of Easton, took place Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Church of St. Asaph, Bala. The Rev. C. E. Snowden, of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Overbrook, officiated, assisted by the Rev. Richard T. Lyford, rector of St. Asaph.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin fashioned on princess lines with the yoke and collar of duchess lace. Her sleeves were long and close fitting, trimmed with cuffs of the duchess lace. Her long train extended from the waistline over which fell her long veil of tulle, which was fastened to her head with a coronet of duchess lace. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and gardenias.

Mrs. Robert Bennett, of Bethlehem, the matron of honor, wore a gown of yellow organdy piped with brown and a large leghorn hat trimmed with brown. Her bouquet was a small affair made in the shape of a basket.

The bridesmaids, Miss Josephine Grace, Mrs. Robert Elmore, Mrs. Perry A. Baird, Miss Kathleen Quinn, Mrs. Brunt Riepe and Mrs. Joseph Missimer, were gowned alike in peach organdy trimmed with turquoise. They also wore large leghorn hats trimmed with turquoise and peach. They carried bouquets of gladioli and delphinium.

Miss Ellen Brown, niece of the bridegroom, was the flower girl. She wore a frock of peach organdy and turquoise and carried a basket of flowers.

Mr. Shellman Brown acted as best man for his son and the ushers included Mr. Walter Lewis Chewning, Jr., brother of the bride; Mr. Shellman Brown, Jr., and Mr. Gordon Brown, brothers of the bridegroom; Mr. Robert S. Bennett, Mr. William Goodman and Mr. William Thomas.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Philadelphia Country Club.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to Bermuda, Mr. Brown and his bride will reside near Bethlehem.

Mrs. Chewning wore a model of blue chiffon with a matching hat and a corsage of sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Brown was gowned in black lace over ivory satin. Her hat was black and she wore a corsage of orchids.

Catherine R. Vogel

Funeral services were held last Saturday for Mrs. Catherine R. Vogel from her late residence, 230 Dudley avenue, Narberth, with interment in Ivy Hill Cemetery. Mrs. Vogel, who died suddenly June 18, was the wife of Daniel H. Vogel, who survives her.

Mr. and Mrs. Logan Howard Smith and their son, Mr. Douglas B. Smith of Fairacres, Rosemont, will sail on July 1 on the S. S. Staatendam to spend the summer touring in England and Scotland.

THE FIRESIDE

Mrs. John De Hart, of Price avenue, left Saturday for a six weeks' stay in Ocean City, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Keim, of Dudley avenue, are in Atlantic City this week attending the International Rotary Convention.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Johnson, of 204 Avon road, have returned from Jeffersonville, Ind., where they visited Mr. Johnson's parents.

Mrs. Walter Hunsicker, of Dudley avenue, will entertain Saturday afternoon in honor of her daughter, Nancy's, fifth birthday. The guests will be Susan Hoffman, Libby Ride-nour, Barbara Odiorne, Margaret Robb, Bunny Hunsicker, John H. Jeff-eries, Jr., and Thomas McAuliffe, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank De Los Can-non, of Shirley road, gave a dinner last Monday to celebrate their sixth wedding anniversary. There were 22 guests.

Miss Dorothy Meale and Thomas Meale, of Meadow Green Farm, Col-legeville, will give a house party over the week-end. The guests from Nar-berth will be Miss Madeleine Dunning, Miss Margaret Johnson, Joseph Ber-ta, Jr., Jack Coleman and Kenneth Bach.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis M. Easby, of Narbrook Park, spent the week-end in Margate, N. J., as guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Henderson.

Mr. Richard Kurzenkabe, who is a student at Georgia Tech, was the guest of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Eberhardt Mueller, of Essex avenue, last week before returning to his home in Tenafly, N. J., for the summer.

Mrs. George B. Suplee and her daughter, Miss Ruth Suplee, of Wood-side avenue, are spending several weeks in Ocean City, N. J.

Mrs. Robert A. Compton and her son, Robert A., Jr., of S. Narberth avenue, left Wednesday for Phoenix, N. Y., where they will visit Mrs. Compton's mother, Mrs. George San-ford, for several weeks.

Mrs. J. H. Speck, of Woodbine ave-nue, chairman of the Hospitality Committee of the Women's Commu-nity Club, entertained the committee members at luncheon Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Haws, who have been on a seven weeks' automo-bile trip to California and the West, have returned to their home on Dud-ley avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Berry and their sons, Harrison M., Jr., and Dick, returned Sunday to their home in Narbrook Park from Brunswick, Me., where they attended Mr. Berry's class reunion at Bowdoin College.

Mrs. E. Proctor Leahy and her son, E. Proctor, Jr., of Ridgefield Park, N. J., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Baily Goodall, of Dudley ave-nue, this week.

Mrs. Nelson Oliphant, who has been spending the winter with Mrs. Walter S. Cowin and her daughter, Miss Mar-jorie Cowin, of Merion avenue, has left for Capitol Island, Me., for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Stiefel, of Woodside avenue, will leave Saturday for a three weeks' trip to Colorado and the National Parks.

Mrs. J. P. White, of Essex avenue, and her daughter, Miss Muriel White, are leaving Sunday for Ocean City to spend the summer. Mr. White will join them there week-ends.

Miss Eleanor Sharpe, of 107 Mer-ion avenue, is spending a week in New York. She will attend the wedding of Miss Helen Wood, and also a dance that is to be held on Long Island.

Mrs. C. Alfred Peeney, of Elm ter-race, had as guests Wednesday, Mrs. Katherine Snyder, and her daughter, Mrs. Irving Brandt, of Lancaster, and Mrs. John Snyder, of Mount Joy.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cadogan, of Glenwood road, are spending a week's vacation in Pittsburgh.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Clark Sunderland, of Glenwood road, Merion, spent Sun-day in Atlantic City.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Picket Stokes, of Lane's End, spent the week-end in Chestertown, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Morrissey, of Buffalo, N. Y., and daughter, Laura Lee, were the guests of Mrs. Morris-sey's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Philip A. Livingston, of Sabine avenue, last week. Mrs. Mor-rissey is the former Miss Laura I. Cooper, of Ardmore.

du Marais—Hill

The marriage of Mrs. Howard Ken-nedy Hill, of the Old Barn, Villanova, and Mr. Maurice Bourgeois du Ma-rai, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tristan B. du Marais, of Elmwood avenue, Nar-berth, took place quietly on Thurs-day morning in the presence of the immediate families of the bride and bridegroom. The Rev. John M. Fa-gan, O. S. A., of Villanova College performed the ceremony.

A reception at the home of the bride followed.

Mr. du Marais and his bride will sail on Saturday for Europe.

"Message" at Egyptian

BARBARA STANWYCK
who, with John Boles, will appear next Monday and Tuesday in "A Message to Garcia." Wallace Beery lends support as a lovable rogue in this adventurous romance.

Local Movies

"Under Two Flags," "Small Town Girl" and "I Married a Doctor" at the Narberth

It's at the Narberth Theatre now—"Under Two Flags," with all its drama, glamor, bravery and tense excitement. A powerful cast brings Ouida's colorful story of the Foreign Legion to the screen, including Clau-dette Colbert, Rosalind Russell, Ron-ald Colman, Gregory Ratoff and Vic-tor McLaglen. Pictorially the pro-duction is exceptionally fine, with desert scenes that are breathtakingly beautiful.

On Monday and Tuesday at the Narberth, Janet Gaynor appears in her best picture since she soared to fame in "Seventh Heaven." The Ben Ames Williams' story "Small Town Girl" concerns a village maiden who marries her drinking partner, an ir-responsible young surgeon, following a football celebration. The picture has a splendid mixture of suspense, humor, pathos and romance.

Pat O'Brien and Josephine Hutchin-son are starred in Wednesday's attraction, "I Married a Doctor." Also a story of small town life and a man of the medical world, its treatment of the theme is so different that every-one should see it for contrast. Wednes-day is also Cash Award Night.

Thursday brings back "The Story of Louis Pasteur," with Paul Muni in the title role, at the request of many patrons, who just missed this fine presentation before or who desire to see it all over again.

Next week-end finds a dancing pa-rade of stars, Dick Powell, Ruby Keeler, Joan Blondell and Jack Oakie in "Colleen." But as if they weren't enough to put over any musical pic-ture, Hugh Herbert has been added as an eccentric millionaire of the play-boy type while Paul Draper threatens the Astaire supremacy with his stepping.

Egyptian Shows "These Three," "Message to Garcia" and "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town"

"These Three," now at the Egypt-ian, with Miriam Hopkins, Merle Oberon and Joel McCrea in the cast, is keyed to a high intellectual note and will prove interesting film fare to adult audiences. The story tells the tragic results of the lies of a vin-dictive little girl (Bonita Granville) on the lives of these three persons.

Monday and Tuesday will see the historical melodrama, "A Message to Garcia" at the Egyptian. John Boles plays the young American officer who makes a dangerous journey across the enemies' lines to carry a message of encouragement and promised aid to the Cuban insurgents during the Spanish-American War. Heading the cast are Wallace Beery and Barbara Stanwyck.

For sheer entertainment "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town," shown Wednesday and (Bank Night) Thursday, is four-star plus. Frank Capra directed and hap-pily cast are Gary Cooper, Jean Ar-thur, Lionel Stander and others. It wouldn't be right to tell what hap-pens to the small town poet after he inherits twenty million dollars and goes to New York to look after his affairs, but be assured that "Mr. Deeds" is crammed with action, clever dialogue, whimsy and suspense.

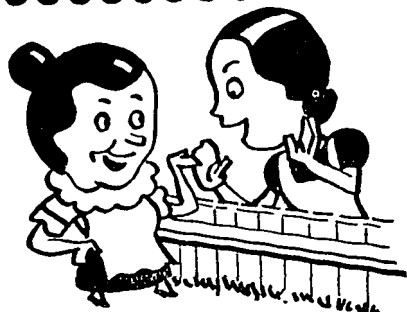

Next week-end brings "Absolute Quiet" with Lionel Atwill, Irene Her-vey and Stuart Erwin. It is melo-drama touched with satire, telling of a group of people brought together by an airplane accident and dominated by one man.

Narberth Residence Sold

Herbert F. Diener, Inc., co-operat-ing with Robert J. Nash representing The Chestnut Street Building & Loan Association has sold the three-story all-brick Colonial residence, built by Wallace & Warner, situate on the southeast corner of Montgomery ave-nue and Stepney place, Narberth, to George F. McFadden for his home. The property was held for sale at $15,500 and settlement has been made.

Firemen Use Gas Masks

Gas masks were used for the first time by the Narberth Fire Company last Thursday afternoon when a break in the line of the ammonia refrigera-tion system at Cotten's Market on Haverford avenue, Narberth, caused fumes to fill the basement. Harry Hollar and George Gillespie wore the masks while shutting off a valve to stop the fumes from escaping.

Girl Scout News

Cynwyd Troop 44, with Miss Emma Croasdale as leader, held a Court of Awards Tuesday when a home nurse badge was presented to Kathryn Hammer; pioneer and scholarship badges to Florence Meade; pioneer, swimming, health winner and observer badges to Ellen Jaffe; the gold star for perfect attendance during the past year to Kathryn Hammer, Ruth and Rachel Croasdale were mentioned as being in line for silver stars representing a ninety per cent attendance of all troop meetings. Honorable mention was made of Mary Brown, who has acted as scribe for the troop and conducted two of the meetings in the absence of Miss Croasdale; Ellen Jaffe for acting as campfire leader on one occasion and for the attractive Troop Record Book which she has faithfully produced; Delphine Pusey for the unflinching regularity in giving notice to Mr. Cummings when the meeting place of the troop in the Bala School was needed; Edith Scott for her success as song leader and activity in the preliminary Folk Festival which brought the troop into third place; Janet Stewart who was in charge of the Christmas project and Mildred Wynne for a remarkably fine performance on the trumpet for Scout's Own and over the radio. Mrs. Jerome G. Harrison, who is Troop Committee Chairman for Cynwyd Troop 44, expressed her satisfaction with the accomplishments of the past year which included an active part in the Second Annual Cookie Sale, a Halloween Party; carolling throughout Cynwyd at Christmas time, the gifts which were packed for "Jerry's" twins, the sale of Christmas cards to benefit Social Service; song contest featuring the Welsh folk song; the All-City Folk Festival visit to Irvine Auditorium; Scout's Own; the exacting handcraft by the older girls who have been making belts of beads on small frames; a visit to the Planetarium; hikes—including the trip to Wissahickon, an onslaught on tent caterpillar egg-masses, and four super meetings and the crowning event, the Court of Awards. One of the most appealing features of the Court of Awards was a marionette show put on by Ellen Jaffe, assisted by Ruth Croasdale, the story of which was based on A. A. Milne's "Winnie the Pooh."

June 27 is the birthday of Helen Keller, herself blind as well as deaf, who is the world's most illustrious example of courage in the face of what seemed insurmountable obstacles. Miss Christine Mahl, Narberth, will be assistant director of Girl Scout Camp Ramble Ridge, located at Galway, New York, which is conducted by the Amsterdam Girl Scout Council. Miss Dorothea Bates, formerly of Narberth, is local director for the Amsterdam Council and is director of Camp Ramble Ridge. Miss Mahl is resigning the leadership of Narberth Troop 8 in order to take an active part in the Main Line District Senior Troop in the autumn when she will take charge of the pioneer phase of the District Senior Troop activities. Miss Helen Melvin, Field Director for District 8, and Miss Mahl are making plans to "launch a Mariner Ship" (mariner term which means the same thing as "Scout Troop"), which will probably materialize in the fall. Miss Betty Seasholtz, will be acting captain of Narberth Troop 8 and Miss Jane Smedley will be acting lieutenant. Both of these girls have been affiliated with Troop 8 for a number of years and are well grounded in scout procedure and have each a first class rating.

Miss Christine Mahl, Shirley Vincent, Virginia Jacobs and the director spent an energetic afternoon on the Dove Mill Day Camp site for the purpose of clearing the leaves from the spring, and eradicating any poison ivy which might be in evidence. Mrs. Henry D. Booth, Jr., chairman of the Main Line District 8 Girl Scout Committee and registrar of the Day Camp has left for Maine, where she will spend the rest of the summer. Much of the anticipated success of the Main Line Day Camp will be due to her enthusiastic and untiring efforts in developing the staff and contacting those who are to be instrumental in carrying on the program.

The necessary Parent's Permission Slip for Dove Mill Day Camp should read as follows: "My daughter (name) and (address) has my permission to attend the Girl Scout Day Camp located at the Longstreth Estate on (date). She is in good physical condition. She has not been exposed to any contagious disease within the past three weeks. Notify in case of emergency (name, address, phone number). The owners of cars carrying children to and from the Day Camp will not be held responsible in case of accident." (Signature of parent or guardian.) One of these slips should be sent with the girl signed by her parent, every date on which the girl attends camp.

Egyptian Giving Matinee Passes to Grammar Grads

The Egyptian Theatre, Bala-Cynwyd, is giving every grammar school child who passed his marks in the local public, parochial and private schools, a pass good for one matinee a week during the first four weeks of July, exclusive of Fridays and Saturdays.

Just hand the cashier at the Egyptian a signed statement by your parent, giving your name, age, name of school, and grade, and the pass will be given to you.

Correction

It was erroneously stated in this newspaper last week that Harry H. Hamer, Narberth delicatessen owner, was agent for Reading Terminal ice cream. Mr. Hamer states that the ice cream he sells is of his own make and brand.

Bad Detours To Harass Motorists All This Season

Bad Winter and Low Funds Have Made Road Patching Widely Prevalent

Main Liners planning automobile trips this summer should make a careful check-up on road maps, and with automobile clubs, for bad detours due to road construction which are expected along their proposed routes.

Due to the severity of the last winter with its harmful effects on roads necessitating much repair work, and because of the great amount of road construction being carried on by the State and Federal Governments, troublesome detours will be especially numerous this season. This warning is contained in the latest bulletins from both the Philadelphia Automobile Club and the Keystone Club.

Because of insufficient funds, the State Highway Department is salvaging as much of the damaged roads as possible, rebuilding only those sections that were completely ruined by the winter.

New construction in Montgomery and neighboring counties will eliminate a number of narrow "bottle necks" and several sections of rough paving in otherwise well-built roads. Bridge replacements and railroad grade crossing elimination is also under way.

New construction to be done by contracts in this vicinity includes:

Widening of U. S. Route 30 through Bryn Mawr, work to start soon; a new and wider underpass to be built under the Pennsylvania Railroad at Wawa, work to start immediately; building of two bridges and relocation of highway on U. S. Route 422 at Norristown; and grade crossing elimination at Bethayres, work now under way.

Boroughites Fine Folk Decides the Spectator

Charlie Noel called us up the other night and asked in circumspet way if some parts of the possible surplus could not be diverted to provide coats for the firemen. Our valiant chief explained that the trousers had already been secured, but extra where-withal was needed for the coats, and he hoped something might be done about it. Well, maybe that could be arranged, but we'll first have to wait and see if there is a surplus, and after that decide as to how it can best be distributed. In the meantime, however, we suggest it might have been better strategy if Sir Charles had first secured the coats, as we are sure that if our populace saw our firemen going out with coats, but without pants, the town's till would be promptly exercised in their behalf, because, fine and all as our fire-fellows are, they are not exactly what you would call bathing beauties, and we rather think there would be an enormous haste to drape them properly if forsooth they appeared unbreeched amongst us.

The first chapter of the Honor Roll should have appeared this week, but our chit-chat on the episode of the rains has already drafted too heavily on the generous editor's space, and so it will be printed next week, when your name should surely be among the elect . . . and that will come to pass if you will send a dollar or two to Carl B. Metzger, Jr., at the Bank, open every morning at 8 o'clock to receive gladly and with thanks whatever it pleases you to pay.

THE SPECTATOR.

J. Harold Way Weds
Elizabeth Semple Hoff
at Cynwyd Presbyterian

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Semple Hoff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leigh P. Hoff, of Levering Mill road, Cynwyd, and Mr. John Harold Way, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Harold Way, of Merion, took place Saturday in the Presbyterian Church of the Covenant, Cynwyd, at six o'clock, with the Rev. Dr. Herbert W. Bieber, pastor of the church, officiating.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a model of white mousseline de soie brocaded with velvet and fashioned on long slender lines. A long train extended from the bottom of the gown in the back and her sleeves were long and close-fitting. Her long tulle veil was arranged in cap effect which had a coronet of old lace and lilies of the valley. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Mary Sue Westcott, of Wynnewood, the maid of honor, wore a frock of pale green mousseline de soie, made with a full flowing skirt and a tight bodice and dropped shoulder trimmed with a ruffle. Her sleeves were short and puffed at the top. She wore a wreath of pale green flowers in her hair, and her bouquet was of Johanna Hill roses, snapdragon and delphinium.

The bridesmaids included Miss Elizabeth Buck, Miss Eleanor de Vilbiss, Miss Julia Moore and Miss Louise Hoff, the latter of Detroit, cousin of the bride. All their gowns were of apricot mousseline de soie fashioned similar to that worn by the maid of honor. They all wore wreaths of flowers in their hair and carried bouquets of flowers like that carried by the maid of honor.

Mr. William Way acted as best man for his brother and the ushers included Mr. Philip Woodcock, Mr. Edward Madara, Mr. Allan Lee and Mr. Martin Erickson.

Mrs. Hoff wore a model of ecru lace with a wide green sash. Her slippers matched the sash and she wore a corsage of orchids.

Mrs. Way was gowned in a model of green chiffon.

A small reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents.

Upon their return from a wedding trip, Mr. Way and his wife will reside in the Sabine Apartments, Narberth.

Thelma Zipperlen Married
During Double Ceremony

Miss Thelma Zipperlen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Paul Zipperlen, of Bala, became the bride of Mr. Arthur Schadt, of Philadelphia, and Miss Katherine Groome, niece of Lieutenant and Mrs. George C. Hassall, of Camden, became the bride of Mr. Horace A. Zipperlen, in a very pretty double ceremony last Saturday.

The wedding took place in St. Luke's Reformed Church, with Rev. L. D. Benner officiating.

Miss Thelma Zipperlen was given in marriage by her father, and was attended by Mrs. Carl Zipperlen, her sister-in-law, as matron of honor and Miss Hilda Muller, as maid of honor.

Miss Katherine Groome was given in marriage by her uncle, and was attended by Mrs. Thomas Hassall, her aunt, as matron of honor and Miss Marie Taylor as maid of honor.

Both brides wore dresses of white satin, with lace bodices made with long close-fitting sleeves and a train of lace extending from the waistline. Their veils were of tulle and Miss Zipperlen carried a bouquet of Easter lilies and lilies of the valley, while Miss Groome carried gardenias and lilies of the valley.

The matrons of honor wore French blue chiffon over shell pink, and carried pink roses and blue delphinium. The maids of honor wore chartreuse over peach and carried talisman roses.

Little Miss Janice Imhof, niece of Mr. Arthur Schadt, was flower girl. She wore shell pink and carried an old fashioned bouquet.

Mr. Martin Hesch acted as best man for Mr. Arthur Schadt, and Mr. Carl Zipperlen acted as best man for his brother, Mr. Horace A. Zipperlen.

The ushers were Mr. Albert Heinze, Mr. Rudolf Spegele, Mr. Herman Weber and Mr. Leon Seidel.

A reception at the Rittenhouse Hotel followed the ceremony.

The Cynwyd Club will hold its Independence Day dance Saturday evening, July 4, at 9 P. M. Music by Mazada Lane Orchestra. Mr. and Mrs. E. Harmon Friel, chairmen of the Entertainment Committee, are in charge.

A very successful affair was staged at the clubhouse on Saturday night, entitled "Bavarian Night." There was an excellent orchestra.

The club has acquired a number of comfortable chairs which add greatly to the comfort of the members.

-SPORTLETS-

A victory is a victory whether it's by two or twenty points. So say members of the Cynwyd Club whose team won the Philadelphia interclub round robin tennis crown last week-end. Cynwyd easily defeated Philadelphia Country Club, 6-0 but was held to a 3-3 tie by Philadelphia Cricket Club who finished the series just two games behind Cynwyd, the winners for the last three years. Cynwyd was especially strong in the doubles with Harold Custer, captain, and Gordon Straub, undefeated pair, and with John Haynes and Dr. Herbert Fischer doing excellent work.

Mrs. W. B. Scott and Neal McNeill, Bala, were third in the handicap field at the Fridolyn golf tournament which had more than 900 players in its two divisions. Their score, 89-18-71.

Gene Maxwell and Boober Keown allowed Ashland but three hits last Friday, with the Cynwyd Juniors winning 15-4 in the opening of the Main Line Junior League games. . . Other veterans in the lineup this year for Cynwyd Juniors are Bill Martindale, Jackie Robinson and Grover Thompson. Of the newcomers Clarence Pearsall and Jack Keers are two most likely to make their presence felt around the circuit.

The Union Fire Association team of Cynwyd sunk the Ardmore Warriors a little farther into last place in the Twilight League Tuesday, by trouncing the latter, 7-1.

See River From Boat

To obtain an idea of the vastness of Philadelphia and the diversity of its industries, as well as its profusion of historical landmarks, the Delaware River, main artery of Philadelphia's commerce, is the perfect place from which to see the whole area in perspective. Probably the most instructive and at the same time most comfortable way to see it is from the deck of one of the boats of the Wilson Line, which operates a fleet of big passenger steamers to Wilmington, Delaware, and Riverview Beach, at Pennsville, N. J. Frequent sailings make it possible for one to take this comprehensive, inexpensive trip almost at his convenience.
